

Royal Dahlman develops, produces and installs industrial filters and filter systems for the oil & gas industry, petrochemical industry and power industry. With around 50 enthusiastic and professional employees, Dahlman offers its customers worldwide high-quality, innovative and customer-specific filter solutions. Important markets are located in Europe, the Middle East and Asia.

Our company works on these projects with the Sales, Engineering, Project Management, Purchasing, Quality & Production departments from 3 locations, Elsloo, Aachen (D) and the head office in Maassluis. Developing innovative technology and strengthening our position in the international market is a challenge and the road to growth. In order to expand our team in Elsloo we are looking for a

Commercial Office Employee (M/F)

As a Commercial Office Employee you are responsible for the administrative and communication order in the department. You are also responsible for the correct handling orders and you take care of purchasing and sales communication.

Our branch in Elsloo is responsible for the after-market and is fully equipped with filtration spare parts, standard filtration equipment, key supply activities and service & maintenance for filtration systems.

Job requirements

- You have completed an administrative or commercial MBO education.
- You work well in a team and are also independent and orderly.
- You are an excellent organizer and know how to manage deadlines.
- You have a flexible work attitude and know how to handle things.
